NEVADA' EQUAL FRANCHISE NEWS

rage news of this last week is the county for woman suffrage. At a large meeting addressed by Judge Parrington and Judge Taber many names were signed to the rolls, Mrs. E. Caine was elected president A. D. Taber, vice president; Mrs. McBride, treasurer; Mrs. Steele secretary, and a mittee was appointed including Mrs. W. W. Booher, Miss Ruth Russell and Mrs. Fitzgeraid. A committee of women was also appointed from different districts of Elko county to further the cause of suffrage in each district. Seven of the most important counties of the state are now organized.

Idaho and Woman Suffrage. The editor of the Ely Expositor recently stated editorially that he worked for equal suffrage in Idaho but was against it today because there was not a particle of evidence to show that conditions have been improved in that state since 1896 when women were granted the franchise,

The following Idaho statutes are due wholly or largely to women's vote:

Law making gambling illegal 1899; raising age of protection for girls to 18, 1899; establishing fund for school libraries, 1901; providing a department of domestic science in the State University, and for a course of lectures on domestic science, 1903; establishing an Industrial Reform school, 1903; Pure Food act, 1903; a law giving a married woman the same right to control and dispose of her property as a married man, 1903.

The last five laws are mentioned as having been secured by the Womens' clubs, in the report of the Idaho State Federation bulletin for 10c June, 1904.

Beneficial legislation along similar civic and humanitarian lines has been passed in the states of Wy oming, Colorado and Utah since women won the vote; and the women of Washington and California have framed important programs. It may have dawned upon the British law-makers that it would have been wiser had Christabel Pankhurst been admitted to the bar when she applied to the Benchers of Lincoln's Inn Fields some years ago.

Mrs. H. Lawson Hill, 104 years of age, the oldest living Daughter of the Revolution, cast her first vote for president of the United States at the California primary elections May 14, and declared it to be one of the happlest days of her life.

Four well known gentlemen, who help to compose the population of A bill has been introduced into Tonopah, were seated in the large upholstered chairs that adorn the lobby of the Mizpah hotel the other evening. After telling stories of their ups and downs in life the drift of conversation finally hit upon their early love affairs. The gentleman from Austin spoke thusly:

"Yes, I've been through the mill along with the rest. The one that looms biggest of all in my life was when I was invited to take dinner at my sweetheart's home. There was a big bunch of her relatives there, including one small brother, and as we sat at the table, this pest in boy's clothing blurted out: "Say, are you going to marry my sister some time?" If you are, why don't you get busy? Pa says you are the slowest guy he ever saw." Gee, but the color of my face and that of the girl's was something awful. The old man sent the kid Men's Leagues for Woman Suff- away, but my appetite was gone, and so was I as soon as we got up from the table. I never went back.

L. S., of Sacramento:-"The worst one on me was the time I tock my girl out rowing on the lake at a summer resort, and like ail other smart Alecks, I got fresh and rocked the hoat. It was upset and the next thing I knew two men were rolling me over a barrel and the girl was holding smelling saits to my nose. I never rocked a boat with that girl in it again. She never gave me the chance."

G. B., Goldfield:- My most embarassing experience was when I took my girl to a church supper and bazaar. They had an auction sale of handkerchiefs, fancy articles, candy, etc., and I blew myself rather speedy for these things. when we got up from the supper table, and I felt in my pocket for four-hits, and located one solitary dime and three pennies, imagine how I felt. They guyed me and they guyed the girl until she refused to have anything more to do with me, but married the redheaded village barber, and the last Irving Macdonald, formerly head I knew of them she was taking in

LEMUEL BASSETT COMMITTED TO ASYLUM

Lemuel Bassett, one of the old residents of this city, was committed to the asylum this afternoon. An examination was held and the commitment followed. Mr. Bassett is an old colored man and has long made his home here. He has been a useful citizen and his deplorable condition is to be regretted. He imagines that he is the superior to Jack Johnson, and has a few rounds every evening. He has been seeing visions and has the indications of a failing mind. His general health has failed along with his shattered mind.—Carson Appeal.
